

BARRY GLEESON BIOGRAPHYBARRY GLEESON

As a business owner, coach and professional, Barry Gleeson is passionate about working with leaders of privately-held businesses to effect real change, achieve greater clarity and gain more personal freedom for the owner(s). He brings over 30 years combined experience with both large public and small privately-held businesses.

Barry has held senior general management positions with P&L responsibility and has 14+ years working directly with business owners and leaders. He believes that success is achieved through a broad service offering and the sharing of perspective and collective experience of seasoned business owners who value greater accountability for results.

He has continued to expand his skills recently becoming a Four Decisions® Certified Coach and an Enhanced Skills Practitioner in Conversational Intelligence.

Barry and his wife, Ann, are both dog affectionado's with two children of the four-legged variety, Sophie and Stella. They love music, the outdoors, travel and spending time with friends and family. Barry's an avid golfer and Ann, retired from the veterinarian field, runs a holistic pet food business.
